SILVER AWARD SPOTLIGHT

Having volunteered at the West Linn White Oak Savanna throughout elementary and middle school, Girl Scout Troop 40345 knew they wanted to preserve and contribute to the Savanna for their Silver Award project. They decided to construct a bench to enhance the experience of visitors and encourage them to reflect on the natural beauty and living history around them. Knowing the area is sacred to native people, the girls met with the Elders of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde and West Linn City leaders to discuss their project idea, learn about the area's history, and receive guidance on design, materials, and placement. In June 2017, the girls installed the bench—constructed of naturally felled wood and incorporating designs provided by the Confederated Tribes of the Grand Ronde—just outside the circle of “Grandfather Trees” at the White Oak Savanna.

BRONZE AWARD SPOTLIGHT

After hearing of the challenges that homeless students face daily in their school district, Troop 20499 of Corvallis knew they wanted to do something to help. For their Girl Scout Bronze Award project, they met with teachers and the elementary school reading specialist and formed an idea for a summer enrichment bag filled with art supplies, glue, scissors, pencils, several new books, math flash cards, and other items to encourage continued learning. They used proceeds from the Girl Scout Cookie Program to fund 60 summer enrichment bags for students in their school district!

Every experience in Girl Scouting offers an inclusive, girl-focused, girl-led environment that creates a safe space where girls can try new things, develop a range of skills, take on leadership roles, and just be themselves. These are just a few of the ways that Girl Scouts in Oregon and SW Washington prepared for a lifetime of leadership in 2017!

1 G.I.R.L. AGENDA

In November, 2017, Girl Scouts from Troop 10037 watched as legislation they proposed and advocated for was ceremonially signed by Oregon Governor Kate Brown! HB 2732, known as the 'Good Samaritan' law, went into effect on June 22, 2017, and provides that a person who enters a motor vehicle to remove a child or domestic animal in imminent danger of suffering harm is not subject to criminal or civil liability. "It makes me really happy that our legislature listens to us and that we have a voice. I was happy to be a part of the process," said Lily H. of Troop 10037. The troop's actions are an excellent example of the power of the G.I.R.L. Agenda, a nonpartisan initiative powered by Girl Scouts to inspire, prepare and mobilize girls to lead positive change through civic action. Learn more at girlscouts.org/girlagenda.

2 GirlFest 2016

3,096 Girl Scouts, friends and family attended GirlFest 2016 at the Portland Expo Center! Girls discovered everything cool about being a G.I.R.L. through hands-on booth activities in STEM, the arts, outdoors, leadership and more. The event also featured free workshops, stage entertainment and the first ever Teen Conference where Girl Scout Cadettes, Seniors and Ambassadors networked and learned about increasing girls' access to education.

3 G.I.R.L. 2017

Thousands of girls and those who support them came together from around the world October 4-8, 2017 to attend the National Council Session and G.I.R.L. 2017 in Columbus, Ohio! Among the attendees were nine GSOSW delegates and a patrol of eight girls and three adult chaperones. In addition to learning about and participating in the national governance process, girls attended breakout sessions with speakers like Mae Jemison, Chelsea Clinton and Barbara Pierce Bush, explored the hall of experiences, and gained inspiration, tools to empower themselves, and the know-how to lead change in their communities.

5 THE GREAT American Eclipse

On August 21, 2017, 134 Girl Scouts, friends and family gathered at Camp Whispering Winds in Philomath, Oregon to witness the Great American Eclipse in the path of totality. Girls and their families engaged in hands-on solar science discovery before viewing the historic eclipse together. This rare and awe-inspiring event attracted an abundance of visitors to Oregon, including our very own Girl Scouts of the USA CEO, Sylvia Acevedo. Sylvia met with GSOSW Girl Scouts, volunteers, supporters and even local media before heading to Salem to view the eclipse.

4 FAST-FORWARDING Into Their STEM Futures

Girl Scouts introduces girls of every age to STEM experiences relevant to everyday life, through programming designed to build their skills and encourage their interest in STEM. New STEM Journeys and badges encourage girls to think like an engineer or programmer, and increase their confidence in an all-girl environment where they feel comfortable trying new things, taking appropriate risks, and learning from failure. Bilingual Girl Scout troops in Medford, Portland and Woodburn jumped right in, introducing hands-on engineering with LEGO® WeDo Kits at troop meetings. The girls developed computer programming and robotics skills by engineering a robot and creating a series of code on the computer to animate them! In addition to troop-level STEM discovery, girls engaged in exciting STEM-focused events in 2017, including GSOSW's STEM Day and OMSI Family Science Night.

These Daisies of Medford, Oregon honored Girl Scout Founder Juliette Gordon Low and raised breast cancer awareness in October 2017 with their Pink Pumpkin patch at Providence Medford Medical Center.

100 YEARS OF Girl Scouts

SELLING COOKIES

The first known sale of cookies by Girl Scouts occurred in 1917, when the Mistletoe Troop in Muskogee, Oklahoma, baked cookies and sold them in their high school cafeteria as a service project. A century later, girls still participate in what has evolved into the largest entrepreneurial training program for girls in the world: the Girl Scout Cookie Program®! Through the program, girls learn the essential skills they need to become effective leaders, manage finances, gain self-sufficiency, and develop confidence in handling money. To commemorate this banner year and celebrate how the cookie program powers amazing experiences for girls year-round, Girl Scouts of the USA introduced the Girl Scout S'mores™ cookie, which became the most popular Girl Scout Cookie flavor ever to launch!
